AUDIT SUMMARY

Results in brief

District operations complied with applicable state laws and regulations and its own policies and procedures regarding alternative learning experience (ALE) enrollment. For the year ending August 31, 2014, the District received approximately $24.4 million in combined enrollment and staff mix funding; approximately $2.6 million of this was related to its ALE programs.

- Homelink Parent Partnership – The program reported 132.75 average annual full-time equivalent (AAFTE). Our audit tested a sample of eight students and found the program had adequate procedures to ensure enrollment was accurately reported and ALE compliance requirements were met.
- EV Online Learning – The program reported 135.97 average annual full-time equivalent (AAFTE). Our audit tested a sample of nine students and found 1.0 monthly FTE over reported. The error was due to counting a student who had not had contact with district for over twenty consecutive days. We estimate the error resulted in $530 in over funding to the District.
- Keys – The program reported 188.75 average annual full-time equivalent (AAFTE). Our audit tested a sample of seven students and found the program had adequate procedures to ensure enrollment was accurately reported and ALE compliance requirements were met.
- Kennewick Center – The program reported 30.30 average annual full-time equivalent (AAFTE). Procedures performed over this program were limited to considering internal controls the District has in place to assure compliance with reporting requirements. Nothing came to our attention to cause us to believe the District did not comply with reporting requirements.

About alternative learning experience programs

ALE programs are a form of basic K-12 public school education in Washington State. While students in traditional basic education attend classes on campus and have face-to-face contact with teachers and other staff, ALE students may spend most, or even all, of their time outside of a regular classroom setting.

Districts may build Internet-based educational programs that enroll students from anywhere in the state. Besides Internet programs, ALE can be accomplished through a contract between a student and district instructors, or through a parent-partner program in which parents participate in the design and teaching of the student's courses. These programs are different from homeschooling in that students remain part of the public school system and districts claiming funding are responsible for supervision, monitoring, assessing and evaluating the student's education.

Districts may count ALE students for funding when they report enrollment to the Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction (OSPI). In order to claim ALE students for funding, ALE programs must satisfy OSPI's requirement for courses of study leading to a high school diploma. Districts must prepare detailed plans for each student, maintain regular contact with students, and evaluate student progress on a monthly basis. Districts must also keep detailed records to show they have met all of these requirements.

During the period under review, the District operated four ALE programs, which accounted for 11.5 percent of its total basic student enrollment:

- Homelink Parent Partnership is a site-based parent-partnership program serving students in grades K-12. The school is open five days per week and students have the option to attend classes three days per week. This program uses community based instructors under the direct supervision of onsite certificated teachers. The program has operated for eight years and non-resident students make up 58 percent of the student population.
- EV Online Learning is a digital online program serving students in grades K-12. This program utilizes the curriculum of Fuel Education (formally Aventa Learning), an OSPI approved online course provider. The program has operated for eight years and non-resident students make up 63 percent of the student population
- Keys is a site-based digital online program serving students in grades K-8. The school is open five days per week and students are required to attend classes daily. The program is located within Spokane School District boundaries and non-resident students make up 100 percent of the student population. The District has discontinued this program.
- Kennewick Center is a digital online program serving students in grades 3-12. This is a drop-in center for online students. Students have the option to meet weekly with onsite certificated staff. The program has operated for eight years and non-resident students make up 100 percent of the student population.

About the audit

Per RCW 28A.232.010, school districts must receive biennial audits of their ALE program. This report contains the results of our independent audit of ALE enrollment at East Valley School District No. 361 from September 1, 2013 through August 31, 2014.

Management is responsible for ensuring compliance with applicable ALE requirements. This includes the design, implementation and maintenance of internal controls relevant to these objectives.

Our audit involved performing procedures to obtain evidence about the District's compliance with state laws and regulations and its own policies and procedures, and internal controls over such matters, with regard to its ALE program.

In keeping with general auditing practices, we do not examine every transaction, activity or area. Instead, the areas examined were those representing the highest risk of noncompliance.
