Report on Compliance with the Energy Independence Act

In November 2006, Washington voters approved Initiative 937, also referred to as the Energy Independence Act. The Act requires electric utilities with more than 25,000 customers to meet renewable energy and energy conservation targets.

Our Office is required to examine municipal utilities' and public utility districts' compliance with these targets. As of this reporting period, 12 such utilities with more than 25,000 customers were operating in Washington State. Public Utility District No. 1 of Chelan County is one of those utilities.

Please find attached our report on Public Utility District No. 1 of Chelan County's compliance with the Act.

Sincerely,

INDEPENDENT ACCOUNTANT'S REPORT

Public Utility District No. 1 of Chelan County January 1, 2016 through December 31, 2016

Board of Commissioners
Public Utility District No. 1 of Chelan County
Wenatchee, Washington

We have examined Public Utility District No. 1 of Chelan County's compliance with the requirements of the Energy Independence Act codified in the Revised Code of Washington (RCW) 19.285.040. Specifically, we examined whether the District:

- Complied with its renewable energy target in accordance with the Act's requirements. The target compliance period was January 1, 2016 through December 31, 2016.

The District's management is responsible for the District's compliance with those specified requirements. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the District's compliance with the specified requirements based on our examination.

Our examination was conducted in accordance with attestation standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the standards applicable to attestation engagements contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the examination to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the District complied, in all material respects, with the specified requirements referenced above.

An examination involves performing procedures to obtain evidence about whether the District complied with the specified requirements. The nature, timing, and extent of the procedures selected depend on our judgment, including an assessment of the risks of material noncompliance, whether due to fraud or error. In making an assessment of the risks of material noncompliance, we considered and obtained an understanding on internal control relevant to compliance in order to design procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. We believe that the evidence we obtained about the renewable resource energy claimed for compliance, as summarized in Attachment A, is sufficient and appropriate to provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Our examination does not provide a legal determination on the District's compliance with specified requirements.

In our opinion, Public Utility District No. 1 of Chelan County complied, in all material respects, with the aforementioned requirements as of the annual renewable energy compliance period ended December 31, 2016.

Our examination disclosed no issues that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

Attachment A: Public Utility District No. 1 of Chelan County Schedule of Claimed Renewable Energy Resources

Attachment A: Public Utility District No. 1 of Chelan County Schedule of Claimed Renewable Energy Resources

	2016 Generation
Facility Name	Incremental Hydropower (MWh)
Rocky Reach dam	141,190
Total:	141,190

This list is not intended to be a complete representation of all renewable resource energy the District had available as of January 1 of the compliance period.

Public Utility District No. 1 of Chelan County used renewable resource energy it produced to meet its renewable energy target for the 2016 compliance period, which is 9 percent of its 1,568,775 MWh average retail load, or 141,190 MWh.

The District claimed a portion of its share of the incremental amount of “bundled renewable energy” produced from efficiency improvements it made to its Rocky Reach dam.

“Bundled renewable energy” is the energy produced, including the environmental attributes associated with the energy. The Act requires incremental hydropower to be bundled in order for the energy to be eligible toward the District’s target.

ABOUT THE STATE AUDITOR'S OFFICE

The State Auditor's Office is established in the state's Constitution and is part of the executive branch of state government. The State Auditor is elected by the citizens of Washington and serves four-year terms.

We work with our audit clients and citizens to achieve our vision of government that works for citizens, by helping governments work better, cost less, deliver higher value, and earn greater public trust.

In fulfilling our mission to hold state and local governments accountable for the use of public resources, we also hold ourselves accountable by continually improving our audit quality and operational efficiency and developing highly engaged and committed employees.

As an elected agency, the State Auditor's Office has the independence necessary to objectively perform audits and investigations. Our audits are designed to comply with professional standards as well as to satisfy the requirements of federal, state, and local laws.

Our audits look at financial information and compliance with state, federal and local laws on the part of all local governments, including schools, and all state agencies, including institutions of higher education. In addition, we conduct performance audits of state agencies and local governments as well as fraud, state whistleblower and citizen hotline investigations.

The results of our work are widely distributed through a variety of reports, which are available on our website and through our free, electronic subscription service.

We take our role as partners in accountability seriously, and provide training and technical assistance to governments, and have an extensive quality assurance program.
